Announcement : Attention please, attention please.
 A strong earthquake has just occurred. However, we are safe in this building.
 The shaking may start again and happen a number of times. When that happens, hold on to something secure and stay away from windows, TVs, and furniture.
 The staff will soon come to check your room. Please follow their instructions and let them know if you have any questions or problems.

Staff : Elly, are you all right? Do you have any injuries?

Patient : No, I don't have any injuries, but I feel sick because of the shaking. It keeps shaking again and again. Is that normal?

Staff : Yes, they are called aftershocks. They often occur after an earthquake. Don't worry; they will die down in a while. I will bring you some medicine for nausea.
 Let me know if you still feel sick after taking it and I'll call a doctor for you.

Patient : I see. Thank you.
